Flea Control

Warm temperatures are ideal for flea reproduction and development. Flea control is, therefore, more difficult in warmer climates where their entire reproductive cycle may be completed within two weeks. Both humans and pets can suffer from flea bites. Although most fleas don't live on humans, they can bite humans, causing skin irritation, allergies, and human diseases such as typhus and tularemia.

Mosquito Service

Mosquitoes suck, literally. That's why Orkin's mosquito control service targets these pests so they don't target you. A combination of treatments to break the mosquito's life cycle, preventing larvae from becoming breeding, biting, and potentially disease-carrying adults. Monthly or one-time treatments during mosquito season safe for family and pets. Added protection from mosquito-borne diseases, such as Zika, West Nile Virus and Chikungunya.
